Farewell to the Odd Bits of Crockery and China

With the large shipments of Crockery that are soon to be coming for our Spring trade, we must prepare a way for their display and there's only one way to do it, get rid of the single pieces and odds and ends that take up lots of room. We have made big reductions on all such things and have a large table loaded with them. Your inspection is solicited.

We know by the number of large Crockery sales we made the past week, both in town and out, that our prices are appreciated and we mean that our prices shall prove to you that we are headquarters for Crockery and China.

Brides, wings, fancy feathers, and everything in the millinery line to close out. Mrs. J. M. Bond, 83 North Main street.

National Nicknames.

Englishmen have submitted to the name of John Bull as suited to the national character. A Scotchman is Sandy.

The Irishman derives his name, Paddy, from his national patron saint, while an ancient nursery rhyme records the fact that Taffy was a Welshman. English sailors call the Frenchmen, in contempt, Johnny Crapaud, but in France he is Jacques Bonhomme, or as a bourgeois, M. Prudhomme. Cousin Michel is the name by which the German is known to the continental nation. Myneer sums up the Dutch, while the Swiss rejoices in the name of Colla Tampon. Don Whiskerandos is almost a national nickname for the Spaniards, dating from Elizabethan times. Italians are known as Lazzaroni and Danes as Danekers.

Carlyle's Way.

Carlyle appears in a brief reminiscence from the pen of Percy Fitzgerald thus: The thing with Carlyle was to send out for a long churchwarden (a clay pipe) and a screw of tobacco, which put him in great good humor. He talked to his plate, as you might say. If anybody said anything from which he dissented you would hear him murmuring, "Oh, the pit and foot; a regular pit and foot!"

Experienced Man.

She—Is my hat on straight? He—I presume it is on the way you want it. It is not on horizontal—Somerville Journal.

A man cannot escape in thought any more than he can in language from the past and the present.

The Daylight Store

JUST WHAT WE EXPECTED

When we marked Children's Garments as low as 62c and had two racks full at only half price, giving our trade a $5.00 Child's Coat for only $2.50. We expected a rush and it came. This will be a very busy week in our garment department—it always is when the word goes out that Children's Garments are half price.

GARMENT DEPARTMENT.

We have added to our sale of Children's Garments all of our Ladies' Cloth and Fur Garments at less than cost to close.

Ladies' Silk Waists at less than cost to close.

Ladies' Wool Suits in long or short jackets at very low prices. Many of these Suits will go in with our new Suits if not sold in this sale, as they are but very little different from new styles. We have new Suits bought, so we know what we are saying.

BARGAIN TABLES.

You cannot well afford to pass our bargain tables without a good look, as there are values here made to close these goods before stock day.

Our Remnant table should be noticed, as lots of desirable goods drop here at but a part of their cost.

You should take one look at our Dress Trimmings on table No. 1, as they are at half price or less. Here are Trimmings that can be worked into sections or bands for shirt waists or suits.

Mohair Voiles on Bargain Tables.

This is a cloth selling so well that last season we could furnish but half of the time. They sold at 15 cents per yard and looked to be 25-cent values.

You will consider this to be a fortunate purchase. They were bought by us last September for our February sale.

We will put these goods on our tables and in our window Tuesday noon, marked with a large placard. Your Choice for 10 Cents per Yard.
